

DANIELSON AND PUTNAM NEWS

DANIELSON

Reports given at the annual meeting of the Baptist church show that all bills have been paid and that a balance remains in the church treasury and in the treasury of the different organizations connected with the church. Notwithstanding the fact that the church has been without a permanent pastor for months, a splendid showing has been made in all branches of the church's activities. Officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: Trustees, Frank T. Preston, E. H. Hammett, John W. Gallup, Horace F. Turner and Ernest R. Warren; deacons, Frank T. Preston, E. H. Hammett, William L. Hennessey, E. B. Wilbur, W. J. Craig, Raymond Allen; treasurer, Walter L. Dixon; clerk, Frank Stinson; chairman of finance committee, Horace F. Turner; superintendent of Sunday school, Raymond Allen.

The reports from the Ladies' Aid society, the Crusaders and missionary societies were all very encouraging and showed much activity and results achieved during the year.

A high tension control and battery room is being constructed by the Danielson and Plainfield Gas and Electric company at the big transforming station that is being erected just west from Mechanic street across the railroad tracks from the storage plant of the Standard Oil company. The building is to be of brick and 22 by 30 feet, one story in height. A man will be on duty there when the work is under way.

At this transforming station high tension lines carrying 66,000 volts off the lines of the Eastern Connecticut Power company come in, this power being used in lighting Danielson and villages of the towns of Killingly, Brooklyn and Plainfield as well as for operating machinery of big textile concerns and other commercial purposes.

Thirty tables were used at a whist party given Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Cummen, Broad street, for the benefit of the Old People's home, which is in need of funds. The affair was very successful and netted $68.75 for the fund.

Recent appeals for aid for the institution referred to has brought some pleasing responses, but many more dollars are needed if the home is to be enabled to function properly and be kept in satisfactory condition of repair. Other benefit affairs for the home have been planned, but it is hoped that many who find no attraction in these will find their way clear to forward contributions in cash direct to those in charge of the supervision of the home affairs.

Business has held up remarkably well at the Danielson postoffice during the first quarter of the year, which ends tonight. Although general business has been depressed and restrictions made in expenditures along almost every line, the postoffice in Danielson has been making the shelves at a pace that would indicate that it had been hardly affected by adverse conditions throughout the country.

try. Postmaster Allen did not have his figures compiled on Wednesday, but knowing approximately what has been done by the office felt no hesitancy in stating that the final figures for the quarter will be surprisingly large. The money order business has held up well, but there has been a small shrinkage in the postal savings department, a reflection of conditions that have obligated some persons to dip into their savings for a rainy day.

There seems to be a strange division between the men and women of Danielson over the proposal of cutting down a row of shade trees on Reynolds street. Most of the women who discuss the matter at all are for saving the trees, while the majority of men who are giving consideration to the question favor removing the trees, though regretting what to them is the apparent necessity for the sacrifice.

Those who favor removing the trees are considering the question chiefly from the view point that such a narrow way will invite accidents if Reynolds street is not broadened, from Main to Broad, before the state road to Little Rock is completed and the traffic over the route increases by leaps and bounds. Those who favor taking out the trees find themselves not without regret that such beautiful maples should go, but their viewpoint is that either the trees must come down or the responsibility assumed for permitting to exist a condition that is almost certain to be the cause of serious traffic accidents and possibly the sacrifice of human life in such cases.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Boys and family are to continue to occupy their present home at Goodyear for some time to come, notwithstanding Mr. Boys is now filling the duties of his new position at Putnam.

Captain F. O. Armington received notice Wednesday morning that the company recently organized here has been given formal recognition. For the present the command will be designated as a supply company, but this may be later changed by the war department.

New ties will be used for replacement work by the New Haven road are being hauled in from the surrounding country and stored in the railroad yards here.

The temperature dropped to 22 degrees in Danielson Wednesday morning, a change of about 40 degrees from the high records attained last week.

The canvass for funds for use in relief work in Ireland will begin in Danielson this Thursday morning.

The Whiteside Mills of the American Woolen company, at Elmville, have resumed operations and within a few days will be employing a full force of hands on a full time schedule. This plant has been closed since late last summer. About 75 will be employed at the plant when the complement of hands is full. Agent Needham Brown of the company said on Wednesday afternoon that the mills have several months of steady work ahead of them. This is another bit of good news that marks the upward swing toward the prosperity that Killingly's textile industry is enjoying.

are entering, and is a cause of encouragement not only for the management and employees, but as well for the entire town. A considerable number of changes and improvements have been made in the plant since it was closed down.

Appeals came Wednesday to members of St. James' parish for funds to aid in the education of young men who are studying for the priesthood at La Salette college in Hartford, conducted by the missionary order that directs the affairs of St. James' parish, and where Danielson boys are studying to become missionaries.

The usual spring proposal that a mill baseball league be formed is heard again this year. Just what the talk will develop this year seems uncertain, but some of the teams representing plants would go into such an organization, while other mill teams prefer to book independent games, believing that greater crowds can be attracted.

PUTNAM

John W. Whipple, L. Allen Averill and Sergeant George Laird, of the Putnam police department, are named as defendants in a $5,000 suit for damages, false imprisonment being alleged by Dr. J. P. McKenna of Providence, who was found guilty of being intoxicated while operating his automobile, the case being heard before Judge M. H. Gelsamer in the Putnam city court Tuesday morning.

Papers in the case were served Wednesday afternoon by Deputy Sheriff A. J. Greenleaf of Williamstown.

Dr. McKenna was arrested Monday night, as told in The Bulletin, after his car was found overturned and driven by John W. Whipple in collision on the state highway near the Gary school house on the road to Pomfret. Mr. Whipple said that he had stopped his car prior to the accident because he had observed the McKenna car coming along on what to him appeared to be an uncertain course.

Mr. Averill was a witness in the case and Dr. McKenna's arrest was made by Sergeant George Laird. Nothing developed in court Tuesday morning that would warrant Judge Gelsamer finding Dr. McKenna guilty of intoxication, so he dismissed the case with a verdict of not guilty.

Dr. McKenna's action in bringing suit on Wednesday came as a surprise. He is represented by Attorney P. J. Danahy of Williamstown. Dr. McKenna complained that he was kept in a cell at the police station here for upwards of three hours before being released, and that during that time there was no one in attendance at the station to serve him with even so much as a drink of water.

Dr. McKenna is a well known Providence physician who has been spending a vacation in his section of Connecticut.

The Putnam Country club has elected the following officers: President, W. F. Rafferty; first vice president, John G. Johnson; second vice president, Chas. E. Dean; treasurer, F. J. Daniels; secretary, Herbert J. Smith; governors for three years, F. F. Russell, George S. Bradley, T. J. Corcoran; governor for one year, J. A. P. Gagne; governor for two years, G. Harold Glavin.

In the superior court here Wednesday arguments were completed in the case of Louis Wolfe of this city vs. Chester W. Gudmundson of New York. Judge James H. Webb reserved decision.

The drive for funds for relief in Ireland, which is meeting with success in Putnam, will close Saturday of this week with a Tag Day, and an effort will be made to reach hundreds of people who will not have been approached in the conducting of the house to house canvass. ian and John Gahan, Jr., are in charge of the canvass. Thomas Duffy and Thomas Ryan are covering Pomfret and Church streets, Sunnyside and Woodstock avenue, Providence street and the streets to the north of that thoroughfare are being canvassed by Edmund Kenna and Armand Bellerose. James Connor is working a part of Woodstock avenue and territory in that vicinity. Oak Hill, School street, Walnut street and Grand View are being canvassed by John Whitten and William Reardon. In the section bounded by Grove, South Main and Parsons streets the solicitors are Thomas Howarth, Grace Kenney and Mrs. Hugh Kelley.

In accepting a unanimous call to become pastor of the Baptist church of this city, Rev. John C. Stoddard has written to Clarence E. Pearce of the official board of the church as follows: "My Dear Sir and Brother: Your letter of a few days ago received and its contents carefully observed. Again may I thank you and four fellow members for the cordial and unanimous invitation from you that I become a fellow-member with you in the capacity of pastor. It is a rare honor. And after prayer, reflection and individual as well as consultation with my best thought, I wish you to know that I herewith humbly, yet gladly, and also with prayerfully deep desire accept your unanimous invitation. All going well, I will plan to take permanent leadership on the first Sunday in May."

While we are anticipating a united service together in the King's business, we will you as church and individuals be much in prayer? The church that is continually a praying force will never be a spent force.

As you convey this message, will you also convey warmest greetings to all interested and allow me to remain. Most cordially yours for Christ and the church.

JOHN C. STODDARD. Indications are that bills providing for the construction of a section of the state highway over a new route from West Thompson to Grovesville and for the construction of a stretch of state highway from a point east of Danielson to the Rhode Island at Little Rock will be made part of the general appropriation bill for the state highway department and will not be considered as separate measure as provided for in bills introduced early in the legislative session. These are probably the only major appropriations for state highway work that will be made for Windham county during 1921, although much repair and upkeep work will be carried on by the state highway department.

Rev. Robert W. Drawbridge who was in France when American forces were fighting over there, is to officiate at the service at the Congregational church in this city Sunday morning. He will also address the members of the Bible school and tell something of his experiences in France.

There will be no short calendar session of the superior court Friday of this week, but court will be in session here next week to hear cases that have previously been assigned.

There will be a very large attendance Sunday at the mass meeting to be held at the Bradley theatre in the interest of Near East Relief. Plans for the meeting have been carefully worked out and general interest of the public has been aroused in the affair.
